Rune Trading update on rice contracts

[P1] Rune Trading said its rice contracts are being delivered in line with the exemption rules announced in December.

[P2] The company is shipping premium aromatic rice and the volumes named in its pre-October government contract.

[P3] Open-market sales of ordinary white rice remain prohibited.

[P4] The company said port documents are being checked carefully at Vanir Rice Port.

[P5] Rune Trading will give notice if the contract position changes.

[P6] The statement covers only the company's own contract and premium shipments.

[P7] Rune Trading said it had no new information on the government's review of the exemption list.

[P8] Port agents said the company's cargoes were being checked against the contract documents.

[P9] A spokesperson said the company would not comment on market prices.

[P10] The company said its next update would follow the normal quarterly schedule.
